THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

Dear Bill:

Thank you very much for your letter concerning Bell Atlantic's and US West's business ventures in Czechoslovakia. I am sure you are aware that the President did mention them in his speech at the Federal Assembly.

The President strongly believes that business ventures like these are exactly what Czechoslovakia and the other countries of Central and Eastern Europe need to help them build strong market economies. Thanks again for your interest.

Sincerely,

Brent Scowcroft

Dear Brent:

The enclosed request from Bell Atlantic and US WEST makes a strong case for your help and the President's involvement during his visit to Prague on Saturday, November 17.

During my own visit there last week on behalf of Bell Atlantic, I pressed the Czech Foreign Ministry and Telecommunications Ministry officials for a swift conclusion to these negotiations. The Czechs clearly want to broaden their economic relations beyond German companies. I suggested that this telecommunications joint venture and President Bush's forthcoming visit would give them a timely opportunity to act on that sentiment.

Ambassador Shirley Temple Black and her Embassy staff have regarded this new venture correctly as the leading edge of American industry's bid to compete in Czechoslovakia. Today's news on GM's new auto assembly project in Bratislava is further evidence of that momentum.

I hope you will agree that these business developments offer a powerful symbolic underpinning for the bilateral message that the President will be bringing to Prague. I urge you to give them the recognition they have earned.

Very truly yours,

William E. Brock

Mr. Brent Scowcroft

for National Security Affairs

Washington, D.C. 20506

Dear Mr. Scowcroft:

The recently announced visit of President Bush to Prague on November 17 presents an unparalleled opportunity to highlight the evolving economic relationship between the United States and Czechoslovakia. We understand that part of the President's message in Prague will be that Congress has just completed action on granting Most-Favored-Nation status to Czechoslovakia which can serve to increase trade between our two countries. We would like to amplify that message by highlighting the fact that our two companies have this week finalized the first agreement between a U.S. and Czech entity.

After months of negotiation, Bell Atlantic and U S WEST have just concluded an agreement with the Czech and Slovak Administrations for Posts and Telecommunications to build a national analog cellular system and a packet data network, which will be the first step in the modernization of Czechoslovakia. The project is valued at $80 million over ten years, with 51 percent of the joint venture to be owned by the Czech partners with U S WEST and Bell Atlantic each holding shares of 24.5 percent. We believe that it promises to be the first in a succession of such arrangements between U.S. and Czech firms.

We trust that you will agree that President Bush's trip affords us the occasion to demonstrate the United States' ongoing commitment to the continuing economic and political reforms in Czechoslovakia. We would also be sending a strong signal to both U.S. businesses and the Czechs themselves that commercial opportunities exist and are already bearing fruit.

Mr. Brent Scowcroft
November 9, 1990

Rather than arranging a separate event, particularly given the President's short stay, we would envision participation in whatever event is being planned to highlight the new MFN status. Ambassador Black and her staff in Prague have been extremely helpful to our efforts throughout our negotiations, and she has offered her assistance. Perhaps a reception at the Embassy, during which President Bush could make mention of the signing between Bell Atlantic, U S WEST and the Czech and Slovak Administrations, which will have been completed the previous day, would be the most appropriate. Such a reception would include senior U.S. and Czech government officials, our senior corporate officers and representatives from other U.S. businesses which are negotiating or are interested in joint ventures in Czechoslovakia.

We look forward to working with you and your staff on this matter. Further contacts on this matter should be directed to either Kathryn Hauser at Bell Atlantic, Lew Cramer at U S WEST, or Jim Frierson at the Brock Group.

U.S. West

Dear Mr. Behuniak and Mr. Tuttle:

As you are well aware, I have been following the progress of the Bell Atlantic and U.S. West negotiations with the Ministry and Administrations of Telecommunications for the past nine months with considerable interest. I have also been working recently with the Havel administration to arrange an appropriate opportunity to demonstrate the cooperation and goodwill between our two countries during President Bush's upcoming visit to Czechoslovakia on November 17. I can think of no better way to express this cooperation and goodwill than to have both Presidents announce the signing of a major business agreement such as yours during the celebration of the "Velvet Revolution".

Since you are very close to signing the final agreements, I strongly encourage you to take every appropriate action to complete your work in time to have a signing ceremony during President Bush's visit. Such an event will be a major step forward for Czechoslovakia, America and for the relations between our two countries.

Please let me know of any assistance that I may provide to help you achieve a signing during President Bush's visit. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Cordially,

Shirley Temple Black

BELL ATLANTIC INTERNATIONAL AND U S WEST
FINALIZE JOINT VENTURE COMPANY WITH THE ADMINISTRATIONS FOR POSTS AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS
OF THE CZECH AND THE SLOVAK REPUBLICS

The Administrations for Posts and Telecommunications of the Czech and the Slovak Republics, Bell Atlantic International and U S WEST have signed two joint venture agreements to build and operate a cellular telecommunications system and a packet data network. The Czechoslovak Administrations of Posts and Telecommunications will own 51 percent of the joint venture company, with Bell Atlantic International and U S WEST international holdings jointly owning the remaining 49 percent.

The total capital investment for both the cellular system and packet data network for both joint ventures will approach $80 million over ten years. Bell Atlantic International and U S WEST will provide the initial convertible currency needed for the design, construction and operation of the projects. The Czechoslovak partners will provide local currency for labor, buildings, towers and other operational expenses.

Service, which is expected to be available by the middle of 1991, will be offered initially in Prague, Bratislava and Brno. This will be followed by expansion to other metropolitan areas and, eventually, to the entire country.

The cellular service will first be offered on an analog system operating at 450 megahertz. As additional spectrum becomes available and approvals received, the partners anticipate upgrading the system.

The cellular system and packet data network will complement the existing telecommunications infrastructure in Czechoslovakia. The current system cannot meet the demand for telephone lines and services. Cellular communications technology provides a quick way to meet the demand of high volume users for communications systems. The packet data network meets the needs of business users for high-speed, cost-effective communication links for the transmission of data. Together, the two joint ventures will help improve the overall communications capabilities in Czechoslovakia.
