Dear Barry,

I am sure you will recall my interviewing President Bush some time ago for a film I am producing on the life of Billy Graham. Work is continuing on this project and it will probably be early 1991 when it is complete.

About a year ago, the President spoke at the National Religious Broadcasters' Convention in Washington and made several very nice statements about Mr. Graham. Thus, my purpose in writing you at this point is to mention that Mr. Graham's organization is currently producing a network television special on his work in Eastern Europe. As such, the director has requested use of the following quotes by President Bush from his speech at the 1990 NRB Convention:

Quote #1

"...One of the Lord's great ambassadors, the Reverend Billy Graham, went to Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union and upon returning spoke of a movement there toward more religious freedom and perhaps he saw it before many of us because it takes a man of God to sense the early movement of the hand of God."

Quote #2

"The last year has been a victory for the freedoms which God has blessed the United States of America...While God can live without man -- man cannot live without God, and today amid political and economic upheaval, these values have not changed."

For your information, the Eastern Europe Special is to be aired on over 230 stations in the United States and 38 in Canada on December 5, 1990. It details Mr. Graham's and the Billy Graham Evangelistic Associations' ministry in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe. It will cover all the meetings he held and feature interviews with people from the various countries showing the impact the meetings had in their country.

Would you please check with President Bush and ask if it would be okay to include the above two quotes in this

The Honorable Brent Scowcroft
Assistant to the President
for National Security Affairs
The White House

Dear Brent:

Ambassador Curley has suggested the President give a televised address while in Paris for the CSCE Summit. I think the idea has merit.

The CSCE Summit will mark the close of the post war and cold war eras, and the opening of a new period of East-West cooperation. Europeans will naturally have questions about the future role of the U.S. in Europe, and Washington's commitment to Europe's security.

Since thirty-four chiefs of state will share the podium during the Summit, formal remarks necessarily will be brief. A separate address to a high-level audience would be covered by European TV. It would provide an opportunity for the President to give Europeans his view of the new world order emerging from the cold war.

In the speech, the President could give his views on the next steps in the development of security structures in Europe, signal the U.S. intention to be a source of creative leadership in an era of equal partnership; and underscore U.S. support for the growth of democratic institutions and practices, not only in Eastern Europe but in other parts of the world. I urge you favorably to consider this timely public affairs opportunity for the President.

Best personal regards.

Sincerely,

SUBJECT: Letter to Stephen Hayes re Invitation to Address Group

At Tab I is a letter from you to Stephen Hayes, President of the American Center for International Leadership, declining his invitation to be the keynote speaker at the group's annual dinner in Baltimore. This group has sponsored several interesting Soviet and East European programs, including the US-USSR Emerging Leaders Summits. Your appearance at the dinner, though, is not necessary. Your response explains that the invitation dates of late November and early December conflict with your schedule.

WASHINGTON

Dear Mr. Hayes:

Thank you very much for your kind letter of invitation to address the American Center for International Leadership in late November or early December. I am very well aware of your group's impressive activities, and believe they greatly contribute to important dialogue and understanding between the U.S. and USSR.

Unfortunately, I will not be able to join you for your annual dinner in Baltimore. As you know, the fall and early winter will be an extremely busy time for the Administration. I wish you and the ACIL all success, and thank you again for thinking of me.

Sincerely,

Brent Scowcroft

Dear General Scowcroft:

On behalf of the American Center for International Leadership, I would like to invite you to be our keynote speaker at our annual dinner in Baltimore. The dates available are November 29 or 30, December 1, or any time December 9-14, inclusive. Based on our past experience, we would expect an audience of 500-750.

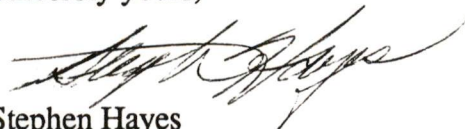

The American Center for International Leadership (ACIL) is a private, independent, not-for-profit organization engaged in the international education and training of emerging American leaders (ages 28-45) in government, business, education, and many other professions.

We conduct dialogues for these emerging leaders and their counterparts from more than 30 nations. We are perhaps best known for our Soviet and East European programs. In particular, you may have been aware at some point of our two successful US-USSR Emerging Leaders Summits (1988 in Philadelphia and 1990 in the Soviet Union) which included substantial participation from US military uniformed personnel, the DIA and others. Among past program participants with whom you are familiar are Peter Rodman, Marshall Miller, Dan Nichols and Margaret Tutwiler. In addition, at the request of US and Soviet government representatives, ACIL has undertaken the continuation of the Chautauqua citizens exchange process. We are putting a more practical bent to it and, again, will have substantial US government representation.

Past annual dinner speakers have included David Rockefeller, Ambassador Ralph Earle, industrialist J. Irwin Miller, Paul Volcker and, last year, Boris Yeltsin.

We hope that world events will allow your participation in ACIL's annual dinner. We look forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely yours,

Stephen Hayes
President

SUBJECT: The Paris Summit: Scheduling a Congratulatory Photo-Op for Woolsey's Team

As you know, Jim Woolsey would like his negotiating team to be involved somehow in the conclusion of the CFE treaty in Paris. Your guidance has been: "See what we can do." Attendance at the signing ceremony will probably not be possible for anyone from Vienna but Woolsey himself.

We suggest that Woolsey and his senior team be offered a congratulatory photo-op with the President immediately after his press conference on Monday night, November 19. The press conference, at Ambassador Curley's residence, is scheduled from 7:00 - 7:30 pm. The President has nothing scheduled for the remainder of the evening. Woolsey's group could be congratulated by the President from about 7:35 to 7:45 pm.

This event puts yet another burden on the President's time. However, we think the CFE delegation has put in a truly extraordinary effort, working around the clock to get this treaty done on time, and this recognition seems appropriate. How Woolsey gets his people to Paris or where they stay will not be our concern.

We have run this idea by Bill Sittmann and he is agreeable.

Heather Wilson concurs.

RECOMMENDATION

That you authorize Advance to schedule a photo-op with the President for US CFE negotiators, immediately after the press conference on Monday evening, November 19, in Paris.

MEMORANDUM FOR BRENT SCOWCROFT

FROM: NICHOLAS BURNS NB
SUBJECT: USIA request for Presidential meeting with Soviet Minister of Culture Nikolay Gubenko

Acting USIA Director Eugene Kopp requested in a November 6 memorandum to you (attached at Tab I) that the President agree to see the Soviet Minister of Culture, Nikolay Gubenko during his visit to Washington, November 13-16.

Mr. Kopp called us directly concerning the request on November 7. We told him that it would not be possible for the President to see Gubenko given his busy schedule in advance of his European/Middle East trip. We also explained that the President would normally not see a foreign official of Gubenko's rank.

You need not take any action on this issue. We wanted you to know of the action we had taken in case Director Gelb should call you about it.

MEMORANDUM FOR: The Honorable Brent Scowcroft

FROM: Eugene P. Kopp epk
Acting Director

SUBJECT: Proposal for Presidential Meeting with Nikolay
Nikolayevich Gubenko, Soviet Minister of Culture

On behalf of Director Gelb, USIA recommends that the President meet with Nikolay Nikolayevich Gubenko, Soviet Minister of Culture, whom Director Gelb invited to visit the United States on a United States Information Agency program. The Minister will be in the United States from November 13-21 to visit major U.S. cultural institutions and meet with civic and cultural leaders and artists in Washington, D.C. and New York. He will be in Washington November 13-16.

Given the changing relationship between the United States and the Soviet Union and the important role that cultural contacts are playing as those changes unfold, we believe a meeting could be beneficial to the overall relationship between our two countries.

Nikolay Gubenko came to the top post in the Culture Ministry in November 1989 from the Taganka Comedy and Drama Theater (one of the most popular theaters in Moscow) where he was chief director for over two years. He is the first fine arts professional since the 1920's to hold this ministerial post. According to Western press reports, his nomination was strongly supported by Raisa Gorbacheva, who serves on the board of the Soviet Culture Fund.

Since becoming Minister, Gubenko has become increasingly outspoken in defense of culture. In June 1990, he headed a union-wide five minutes of silence to protest the government's lack of support and funding for culture. In early September, he sent Gorbachev a memorandum expressing concern for the "commercialization" of the arts during the transfer to a market economy. Gubenko has recognized the overall lack of funding available for the arts and supports private and cooperative patronage, as well as foreign aid to alleviate the situation. He has also pushed to have Soviet citizenship returned to Solzhenitsyn, Rostropovich, and other Soviet cultural emigres. In late September, after meeting with top Soviet cultural figures, President Gorbachev proposed appointing Gubenko to the USSR Presidential Council.

I recommend that President Bush grant the requested appointment.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: BRENT SCOWCROFT

SUBJECT: Your Meeting with Italian Prime Minister
Andreotti: Update on the Baraldini Case

At the end of your meeting with Andreotti at the UNGA, he raised the case of Sylvia Baraldini. You asked that we inform Justice that Andreotti raised the matter, which we have done.

Briefly, the facts are these. Baraldini, an Italian national, was sentenced here about five years ago to a 43-year prison term for conspiracy in armed robberies in the U.S. resulting in the death of a bank guard. (She was also investigated, but never charged, for possible complicity in bombing attempts against U.S. Government buildings.) Having served part of her sentence in Kentucky and then in Manhattan, she was transferred in March to a maximum security prison for women in Marianna, Florida.

The daughter of a prominent Italian diplomatic family, Baraldini has become something of a cause celebre in Italy, where a "Friends of Sylvia" committee was formed in 1988. Andreotti has felt the heat from a series of parliamentary resolutions on her behalf, most of them related to the severity of the sentence and the inhumane treatment to which she allegedly has been subjected. A year ago, the Government of Italy formally presented the Attorney General with a request for Baraldini's return to Italy under the terms of the Strasbourg Convention on the Transfer of Sentenced Persons, to which we and Italy are signatories.

In reviewing the case, our law enforcement community argues that Baraldini is an unrepentant terrorist fully capable of committing further terrorist acts against American citizens. If returned to Italy, they say, she might soon be free to do just that, as no Italian magistrate would hand down anything like the sentence she received here.

If, as is highly likely, Justice refuses the Italian request, Embassy Rome believes the decision would be damaging but manageable from the bilateral perspective -- noting, however, that it might also affect Italian attitudes on prisoner transfer requests that we have made.

We have provided contingency talking points in your briefing package for your November 13 meeting with Andreotti.
